Sewer Delay By City Creating a Crisis

Hazards, Costs
Stem From Lack Of Right-of-Way

By WILLIAM WINTER
and HARRY BARNES

Granite Cityans are "bewitched, bothered and bewildered."

Bewitched in a sharply negative way by the prospect of excessive sewer costs created by municipal delay in obtaining a stormwater sewer easement along East 23rd street and Nameoki road.

Bothered by the fact that present sewers are being disconnected and plugged pending construction and completion of the concrete channel into which they are to drain stormwater. Until the channel right-of-way is provided by the city, many sections of the sewer project will fill up with water that has no place to go, creating health and safety hazards.

Bewildered over why the right-of-way was not acquired before a sewer installation contract was awarded, and why the problem has been left unresolved by the city government all summer. The $3,000,000 contract was signed this spring, with work beginning in mid-June.

The potential debt developing for taxpayers includes the cost of acquiring the right-of-way by condemnation if that procedure was followed. It lost by only a 7-9 vote last week.

Fears Huge Tax Burden

Mayor Donald Partney on Friday opposed condemnation saying, "We have no idea as to the amount the courts would fix in determining what the city would have to pay for the ground. Industrial property runs high. I know of one instance in which $65,000 was paid for a one-acre location for a filling station."

Some officials have assumed the price might be $10,000 or $20,000 an acre for the nine acres, a possible total of $100,000 or $200,000. The mayor's comment indicates the figure might soar to several hundred thousand dollars.

"Even worse," Partney added, "the time involved in condemnation could block the sewer work for as long as three years. We have been given to understand that Granite City Steel Co. would take the issue to the Supreme Court if we attempted to condemn."

Other cost factors being cited include higher costs encountered by the contractor, S. M. Wilson & Co., due to being delayed by the lack of right-of-ways. In a letter to the city, the firm has said these costs will have to be passed on to the city.

Land Exchange Proposed

The principal alternative that has been discussed involves a land trade — the nine acres needed for the sewer channel in exchange for the three acres occupied by August street in crossing the industrial tract from East 23rd street to Edwardsville road.

The steel company has told aldermen that if the street is vacated, planning for a new cold strip mill employing 600 to 700 persons would be expedited. Construction would begin within several years.

Citizens favoring closing of August street have pointed out the value of these new jobs to this community.

Other favorable financial aspects for the city would be elimination of August street maintenance costs and the creation of the need to construct a bridge to carry August street over the storm channel.

The city council has opposed the property trade on the theory that vacating the street would cause inconvenience. However, it is shorter, to use East 23rd street and Nameoki road when going north, and only slightly longer to use Monroe and 21st street when traveling south.

Wider Street Available Soon

With Nameoki road being widened, use of that route instead of unpaved August street will be even more advantageous if it is contended. Some of the traffic counts showing use of August street have been taken while Nameoki road was virtually blocked due to the widening project.

Among the reasons against condemnation, in which a jury would set the purchase price, is that the city does not have any money set aside for such a purpose. Its financial problem is acute.

Results of City Inaction on Providing a Sewer Right-of-Way:

DANGER

Possible $100,000-$200,000 property condemnation costs; billed to Granite City taxpayers.
Undetermined cost of constructing a bridge to carry August street traffic over the new storm sewer channel; billed to Granite City taxpayers.
Added costs encountered by the contractor due to inability to proceed until a right-of-way is provided; billed to Granite City taxpayers.
Undetermined cost for continued maintenance of August street.
Undetermined economic loss in jobs and wages which would be provided through proposed expansion of Granite City Steel Co.

Likelihood that sewer channel excavation and paving will have to be postponed until warm weather next year, unless the right-of-way becomes available immediately.
Inconvenience for residents and motorists continuing indefinitely in neighborhoods where there has been extensive sewer installation work.
Interminable court delays if the city institutes a condemnation suit.

Sewer backups into basements, yards and streets, adversely affecting homes and furnishings.
Sinking and deterioration of streets.
Impairment of other utility lines due to possible leaks resulting from pressure on plugged sewers, some too old to withstand it.

Prospect of illness due to frequent standing water during the time when drainage lines are unconnected and plugged.
Hazard of falls, drownings in excavated areas.

Super-Sized Travel Schedule for Sternberg

By DONNA HOGAN

Gene H. Sternberg, 1968-69 Optimist International president, will be one of the most widely traveled presidents in the 50-year history of the organization, going many thousands of miles to speak at club meetings and civic group gatherings.

Most of the trips will be by plane, and he will be accompanied by his wife, Ruth.

He will begin his tour of engagements early in September in Omaha, Neb., for an evening meeting, returning home early the next morning.

After one day at home, he will journey to Green Bay, Wis., for an evening speaking engagement, returning home the next morning just in time to attend the Green Bay-St. Louis professional football game in St. Louis.

Next will be a two-day "vacation" at home to continue his activities in the G. H. Sternberg & Co., construction firm, which he founded in 1950. It is located at 1609 Delmar avenue.

After this he will take an afternoon flight to Sacramento, Calif. During a rigid schedule he will speak at an evening meeting and leave the next day for Portland, Ore., for another evening talk.

Early the following morning he will again be on his way for a stopover at Billings, Mont., and another evening meeting.

Council Could End Problem at Meeting Tonight

By WILLIAM WINTER
and HARRY BARNES

Granite City council action tonight to remedy its sewer easement crisis is considered possible — but far from certain.

Aldermen have resisted several previous attempts to acquire the needed right-of-way.

Proposed exchange of nine-acre East 23rd street-Nameoki road right-of-way for three-acre August street was discussed briefly Thursday night in between sessions with employees seeking wage increases.

It was agreed to bring up the August street topic again tonight, when councilmen are scheduled to assemble to obtain replies from several groups on offers made Thursday evening.

The property exchange proposal dates back to early June when it first was mentioned in a council session merely as a "reported offer" by Granite City Steel Co. As a result, the Special Sewer Committee, headed by Alderman Edmund Barnasak, arranged a meeting with steel company officials, who formally presented the plan for trading the two tracts and vacating August street.

Council Members Balk

In its first subsequent council meeting in which the proposal officially was presented, council members balked at its approval, although Mayor Donald Partney made it known in that session that the contractor was starting work on the stormwater lines and that settlement of the easement issue was urgent.

The plan was outlined by Randall Robertson, attorney for the steel mill, who pointed out that Granite City Steel Co. would trade 9.9 acres of valuable industrial property in exchange for the August street roadway of 3.3 acres.

He said Granite City Steel did not want to sell any part of its property, but was willing to make the suggested trade in exchange for the roadway, which now divides steel firm property and would stand in the way of future expansion unless it were closed.

Varies in Width

Attorney Robertson noted that the right-of-way needed by the city on the south side of East 23rd street is from 18 feet in width at Bromley avenue to 55 feet wide at Nameoki road and along Nameoki road to Edwardsville road.

On the south side of Edwardsville road from Nameoki road to the Nameoki drainage canal operated by the East 5100

Raid Nets Mine, Other Illegal Weapons

3 Members of Eagle
Park Acres Family
Are Arrested at Home

An arsenal of weapons, ammunition and explosives was found in a raid at an Eagle Park Acres house Friday afternoon by state police, Madison county sheriff's deputies and East St. Louis police. Three men were arrested.

Charged with unlawful possession of weapons were Bill Lucas, 33, of 165 Hill street, and his two sons, William "Bull" Lucas, 22, and Darnell Lucas, 21, of same address. The cache was at their home.

They were taken to the Madison county jail, with bonds set at $25,000 by Magistrate Joseph Kelleher Jr. at the courthouse where most of the material was taken and cataloged. A hearing was set for 2 p.m. today.

A land mine, some Molotov cocktails and hand grenades were delivered directly to the Granite City Army Depot, where they were deactivated.

Counted at the courthouse were a submachine gun, eight rifles and shotguns, including some Army M-1 rifles, about 25 handguns and 5000 rounds of ammunition.

Some Weapons Brand New

Local 1247, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said this morning that the police union will stand pat on rejection of the contract until tonight's council meeting, which has been scheduled so that union members could give their answers to the new contract offer.

Leaders of the police union, Local 1247, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said this morning that the police union will stand pat on rejection of the contract until tonight's council meeting, which has been scheduled so that union members could give their answers to the new contract offer.

At 2:10 p.m. Friday, another East St. Louis policeman, Detective Charles Vaughn, appeared before Judge Kelleher and obtained a search warrant.

The raid was led by State police Lt. Oliver W. Reichert, and deputies included Raymond Willard of Granite City, who executed the warrant, and Stanley Wojcik of Madison.

Felony Charges

The felony warrants charged them with unlawful possession of a weapon with a capacity of more than eight shots with a single squeeze of the trigger (the submachine gun). Some of the long guns also were under 18-in. barrel limit. Maximum penalty for such an offense is five years in prison.

The house is a one-family frame flat with green-painted shingles trimmed in green with a cellar and outbuildings.

It was being booked at the county jail, the older Lucas told the chief jailer that he had a federal license as a gun dealer.

All three members of the family have police records but none have been convicted of felonies.

William "Bull" Lucas was indicted by a Madison county grand jury last spring on a charge of attempted burglary at Snyder's service station last March 19 and with illegal possession of burglary tools.

He also was indicted in 1966 on the charged theft of a large amount of copper wire from the GMAO Railroad on Aug. 17 of that year, and in 1965 on a charge of robbery of $50 from Earl Malin of Fenton, Mo., on Sept. 25 of that year.

Pontoon Beach Arrest

Donald M. Randall, 34 Victoria drive, was picked up last night by Pontoon Beach police on a warrant charging him with operating a vehicle with an improper muffler. He was released from Granite City police headquarters on his own recognizance after he gave notice to appear for a hearing.

Laclede Studies Prices

Laclede Steel Co. will increase the price of some of its products, probably before the end of August, a spokesman said Friday. Steel rods and flat and round bars are to be increased, but construction pipe and pipe will not be affected.

Session Tonight On Responses to City Pay Offer

Decision of Granite City employees as to acceptance or rejection of a new proposal for working agreements with all city workers — providing less than half the total wage increase sought by police and firemen — remained in doubt today pending outcome of a meeting of firemen this afternoon and a session of the city council at 8 o'clock tonight. Picketing continues.

A new proposal, result of a five-hour negotiating session Thursday night between city officials and leaders of six unions, was rejected in separate action by police and firemen. But requests for a second meeting to reconsider their action developed among members of the firefighters' union during the weekend.

As a result, leaders of the firemen's union scheduled a meeting at 1 p.m. today for a possible second vote on the question of accepting a schedule of wage increases and fringe benefits offered by the city council in last Thursday's contract talks. The meeting will be held in the No. 1 Fire Station.

No Predictions

Harry Hillman, president of Local 2353, International Association of Firefighters, said he had no way of predicting the outcome of today's meeting, but added, "Several members have told me they might change their minds." Thirty-eight Granite City firemen belong to the union.

Leaders of the police union, Local 1247, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said this morning that the police union will stand pat on rejection of the contract until tonight's council meeting, which has been scheduled so that union members could give their answers to the new contract offer.

Leaders of the police union, Local 1247, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said this morning that the police union will stand pat on rejection of the contract until tonight's council meeting, which has been scheduled so that union members could give their answers to the new contract offer.

Arthur Griffith, business representative of the International Hodcarriers Union, which represents street department laborers, said no meeting was planned by his union over the weekend and until the council meeting tonight.

He has "no comment" on acceptance or rejection of the contract proposal.

Meet Separately

The new contract offer followed negotiations Thursday night between the unions and the city council which was at that time as a committee of the whole, replacing an earlier negotiating committee of three day dressers and closet makers.

Union representatives met in the mayor's conference room while the council members held discussions in the council chambers across the hall on the third floor of the city hall.

Bernard O'Keefe, federal mediator, was present for the negotiations. (Continued on page 7, col. 7)

Shotgun Blast Hits Man Seen Near Residence

A man peering in a bedroom window at the James Sellner home, 14 William John court, where 30 teenagers were attending a birthday party, was wounded in the shoulders and back at 1:30 a.m. Sunday by shotgun pellets fired by neighborhood youths who have been seeking a "peeping Tom" in the area.

Deputies were called at 11:15 p.m. Saturday but an intruder at that time apparently hid from the lights of a patrol car. The "vigilante" group then resumed its surveillance.

After the shooting, the men searched a car and the man fled on foot. A blast had hit the Sellner bedroom window, shattering glass and penetrating the screen. No one was injured in the home.

Deputies summoned later to the auto of James Sellner, 18, of 1603 Fourth street, Madison, who is married, was found with a large wound in his head, with residents surrounding the hospital.

Go appeared at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4 a.m. Sunday and was admitted for treatment of gunshot wounds. He said he had been shot because he was on gasoline, and reported that he was shot by an unknown person while walking toward his home.

Goated Bandit in Derby Hat Robs Five

Carries Shotgun As Trio Holds Up Tavern; Area Break-Ins, Thefts

Robbery of a Madison tavern and five of its patrons and a series of burglaries, thefts and attempted break-ins were among 24 weekend crimes in the Quad-City area.

Three armed bandits, one of them carrying a sawed-off shotgun and wearing a derby hat, a goatee and a red tee shirt, robbed Ertwood's Tavern, 108 State street, Madison, shortly before midnight Thursday and took cash, checks and a wristwatch from five patrons.

Ella Miller, 137 Trocree lane, barmaid at the tavern, said Madison police the three men walked into the tavern about 11:45 p.m., covered her and the five bar patrons with pistols and the shotgun, and methodically robbed everyone in the tavern.

One of the bandits cleaned out the cash register of an undetermined amount of cash and took the contents of a change box kept behind the bar.

Another of the trio went to the end of the bar where Elvis Schremp, 39, Perryville, Mo., and Marty Hall, 42, of 3209 Maryville road were standing. The bandit, armed with a pistol, took Schremp's wallet containing $25 cash, and took from Hall $5 in cash and a $25 check.

Gets Cash, Watches

The goateed robber with the shotgun searched and robbed Bruce Zulauf, 48, Bland, Mo., of his wallet, his watch and three checks in the amount of $50 each.

He also took from Blair Pratt, 30, Blairsville, Ia., his wallet containing $65 cash, and his watch, and from D. J. Boulwae, 47, Buffalo, Mo., a wallet containing $45 in cash.

Police said one bandit was described as about 18 years old, about five feet, 11 inches tall, weighing 185 pounds. He was wearing tan trousers and a white shirt and was armed with a pistol.

The second bandit, with the shotgun, was about 40 years old and weighed about 150 pounds, witnesses said. Police were unable to obtain a description of the third bandit.

100 House Burglary

Ralph Dauger, 2446 East 24th street, reported at 11:40 p.m. Friday that $100 was stolen in a burglary at his home that day. Dressers and closets were ransacked. Entry was gained through a front bedroom window after a screen was torn out.

Burglars broke into Tri-Mor Bowl early Saturday and took $300 from the office, 38 cartons of cigarettes, and change from all of the pinball and soda machines, which were broken open.

The entire building was ransacked. Entry was gained by forcing steel bars out of a rear window. The getaway was (Continued on page 17, col. 7)

COMPUTER at SIU-SW with Associate Professor John W. Ellsworth, who will use it to monitor and study the 1968 presidential election campaign.

SIU-SW Computer to Analyze Election Campaign Contest

News media coverage of the 1968 presidential campaign by line, speech texts will be analyzed and fed into the computer.

News reports from the three major television networks will be taped, and 20 major newspapers and three news magazines will be analyzed.

To prepare for the 1968 campaign, Ellsworth and his graduate assistants have analyzed 20 speeches made by John F. Kennedy and Nixon in 1960. From this pilot study, a system involving categories of emphasis has been developed. These categories will be the yardsticks for measuring the oratory of this year's candidates.

Categories are: party reference, campaign reference, special interest group reference, policy statements, aspirational statements, reality assessments, nationalism and verbal style.

After the November election, Ellsworth hopes his completed research will prove a valuable aid for campaign interpretation by historians and political analysts.

Findings from the computer survey will furnish a "profile" of each candidate's campaign.

Action on the study began in earnest as Richard M. Nixon delivered his acceptance speech at the GOP convention Thursday night.

Ellsworth will do a content analysis of speech texts "to see if we are missing something in election reporting." The study will also try to determine the frequency with which the major presidential candidates use aspirational, policy, patriotic and other references during the campaign.

Findings from the computer survey will furnish a "profile" of each candidate's campaign.

Development Group May Add Two Counties

Expansion of the geographic territory of the Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corp. and appointment of an Industrial Lands Committee were actions taken Friday noon at an executive meeting of the board of directors. Fourteen attended the session at the Round Table restaurant.

Authorization was given to contact groups in Jerseyville and Monroe counties which have expressed interest in joining the industrial development organization, to determine the amount of active interest and the feasibility of including them in the corporation's jurisdiction.

Carl A. Ranft, general manager of the Tri-City Regional Port District was named chairman of the Industrial Lands Committee, with responsibility to assist in developing industrial maps, currently being prepared by the regional body.

Also appointed to the committee were Ralph Morris, Granite City; Robert Yates, Alton; Arnold Casense, Edwardsville; William Boyne and James Reed, East St. Louis; William Shreck, Collinsville; and Ferd Goewert and William Adrian Jr., both of Belleville.

Board members voted to pay 50% of the cost of publishing the new industrial maps, with the remaining expense to be allocated at a subsequent meeting.

Other business discussed included compilation of an industrial directory and a vital statistics brochure. Directors also voted to re-name the organization's newsletter "Metro East Reporter."

Preliminary plans were formulated for the annual meeting in September, with a date yet to be selected.

Tax Payments in GC Are $760,000 Behind Last Year

An "alarming decline" in local tax payments during the current tax collection period was reported today by E. R. "Pat" Rich, Granite City treasurer, who said total payments are lagging more than $760,000 behind those of last year.

Rich said his office plans to accept local tax payments for only two more weeks. Failure of Granite City taxpayers to pay their 1967 tax bills during the local collection period could cost the city a large amount of income.

The city treasurer's office receives a 2% commission on all tax payments made locally. This money goes into the city's general fund and for operating and maintenance. Customarily the treasurer's income ranges from $115,000 to $130,000 during each annual collection period.

As of Friday afternoon, Rich's office had collected a total of $2,331,831 in taxes this year. The amount includes $1,960,837 in real estate tax and $370,994 in personal property tax, and was collected during 33 days of this year's tax collection period which began June 24. Last year, taxes collected during a comparable 33-day period amounted to $3,092,489.

This year's collections, with only two weeks remaining, amount to only 31% of the total due.

Rich said the bulk of the decline in tax payments involves personal property taxes.

Code of Dress Formed For Students at GCHS

A new code of dress for Granite City high school students has been developed and approved by the Student Council and the board of education. Student Council members agree that a working clothing code helps prevent juvenile delinquency and produces higher moral and physical standards among youth.

After corresponding with other schools to learn of their successes and failures, the Student Council thoroughly investigated and revised the clothing code at GCHS.

"The purpose of our school is education, and anything detracting from this basic purpose is not permitted," the council said.

Among changes, culottes, formerly banned, are now approved, but pant dresses continue to be banned. The general code of dress calls for all clothes and shoes to be clean, neat and in good condition.

Dress for Boys

The code of dress for boys: Boys' hair should be cut neatly, conservatively, and often to insure good grooming. Boys should be cleanly shaven, with sideburns no longer than mid-ear.

White "T" shirts or undershirts are permissible only if worn with dress or sport shirts or sweaters. Sweaters are permitted provided they are clean, neat, properly fitted and have no advertising or numbers on them.

All sport shirts should be buttoned within one button of the collar. Shirts with tails should be tucked in. Jeans or levis may be worn on the condition they are clean, neat and properly fitted. Levi jackets and motorcycle jackets are not permissible.

Boots, heavy cleats and horse-shoe taps should not be worn.

Dress for Girls

Code of dress for girls:

Sweaters and blouses should not be closely fitted, low cut or of a sheer material. Blouses should be buttoned at the top button or one button below the collar. Blouses with tails should be tucked in.

Slacks, shorts and excessively tight skirts should not be worn. Culottes will be permitted provided they are the same length as skirts and look like skirts.

Clothes designed for evening wear should be avoided.

Light makeup may be worn but should not be applied in the classroom.

"Falls" are allowed provided they are clean, well-groomed and not of an unusual color, but wigs are not allowed.

Hair should not be worn in curlers, bobby pins or clippees and should not be combed during class or in the cafeteria.

Jewelry suitable for school may be worn.

Boots should not be worn. The code is to be revised every two years.

Janet Gallauer, Robert LeGrand Exchange Vows

In an 11 o'clock High Mass Saturday at St. Joseph Catholic Church Miss Janet Gallauer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gallauer, 2206 East 20th street, became the bride of Robert LeGrand, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul LeGrand, 2006 Cottage avenue.

The Rev. Peter Bertoldo officiated at the 11 o'clock Mass before the flower bedecked altar.

The bridegroom's parents gave the wedding breakfast in the church basement and a reception was held in the evening at the VFW Hall.

A gown of silk peau de soie was worn by the bride. It was designed with a bodice and bell sleeves of peau d'ange lace and an A-line skirt enhanced with appliques of the same lace. The Watteau train, attached at the neckline, with a bow of the fabric, was bordered with scalloped lace.

A flowered headpiece of lace held in place a tiered veil of silk illusion with tines of the lace to complement the pattern on the gown.

Feathered carnations, stephanotis and garlands of ivy were combined in the bride's offside cascade bouquet.

A matron of honor, Mrs. Helen Rehg, the bridegroom's sister, and three bridesmaids, Misses Linda and Marjorie Gal-lauer, sisters of the bride, and sister of the bridegroom, wore full-length gowns of linen with scooped necklines, and elbow sleeves. The bodices were moss green and the skirts were lime. Their flowers were milze gladiolus with camellia foliage in offside cascades.

The bride's mother chose a pale pink shift and matching accessories. Mrs. LeGrand, the bridegroom's mother, wore pale blue crepe and blue and white accessories. Both had corsages of white roses.

Melvin Rehg was best man. Paul LeGrand, a brother of the bridegroom, and James Kollier, Ronald Weckman, Daniel LeGrand and Michael Ponath made up the list of groomsmen and ushers.

After a honeymoon in Florida and the Bahamas, the couple will be at home in Granite City.

Both attended Southern Illinois University for three years and the bridegroom, a graduate of Assumption high school in East St. Louis, is employed in St. Louis while attending SIU in the evenings.

The bride graduated from Granite City high school and, like her husband, is employed in St. Louis while attending SIU in the evenings.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Riggs Weston, 2013 Wayne avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Theron Hutchison, 2101 Dewey avenue.

Bouquets of white gladioli and pom poms arranged on the altar, lighted with burning candles in candelabra and a white kneeling bench, provided the setting for the double ring ceremony. The candles were lighted by Kevin Weston and Phillip Adams, a brother and cousin of the bride.

Miss Janet Weston presided at the organ and accompanied the vocalist, Roger Russell, as he sang "Wedding Prayer"; "One Hand, One Heart"; and the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. Weston gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of pure white Chantilly lace styled with a sabrina neckline, scalloped and delicately touched with iridescent crystals.

The molded basque waist was accented at the back with a soft organza bow tied full and ending at the hem of the floor-length skirt. The aisle-wide bouffant skirt over crinoline was formed of tiers of delicate scallops of lace, continuing into a chapel train sprinkled with iridescent crystals.

A starburst petal of lace and organza worn low over the forehead held in place the bride's shoulder-length veil of tiered silk illusion. She carried a triangle cascade of white roses centered with an orchid and a spray of white carnations.

The attendants wore gowns of pastel yellow linen with white and yellow Venice lace daisies encircling the round necklines and extending into the short sleeves.

SPRINT CAR NO. 44 will be seen in action Saturday at Tri-City Speedway. Its driver, Wib Spalding (left), and Tom Murray (right), the car's mechanic, hope to have the car in top shape. Now a year old, it is estimated at $12,000 in value and is the number four car in the nation in point standings of the United States Auto Club. Spalding is third in the nation in total points accumulated this season.

Many Entries for Memorial Auto Racing Here Saturday

Local builder and developer Jim Green announced during the weekend that entries for the United States Auto Club Memorial Race program slated for Saturday, Aug. 17, at Tri-City Speedway are coming in at a record pace.

If entries continue to flow in this week, like they did last week a record number of sprint cars will be on hand for the races, as well as many of the best known drivers from across the country.

Green is a USAC car owner and promoter of the local sprint car program. Local race driver Wib Spalding will be at the wheel of the Green's No. 44 car.

The car ranks fourth in the National Car Owners Association and the driver ranks third in point standings of the USAC. Spalding is the official record holder at the speedway.

Spalding made his big step from supermodified racers to the sprint cars in 1966 and, within one year, he was on the move and doing well. Then Green bought a new car and put Spalding at the wheel, and that was the year that Spalding placed 19th in the national standings.

This year, Spalding and Green's car are near the top of the standings and hope to stay there.

Errors Decide Game In Overtime Inning

Community Heights had to play eight innings to down Graceland Baptist 8-5, Saturday evening at Wilson Park, scoring three runs in the top of the eighth on one hit and three errors.

Bill Brown had a single, double and triple to drive home three runs for the winners. Wilis Gordon and Dave Wilson each got two hits.

John Allen, John Warren, Bud Johnson, Chuck Feltmeyer and Roger Feltmeyer had two hits apiece for Graceland. Wayne Adams was the winning pitcher and Russ Feltmeyer the loser.

Niedringhaus Methodist won over West 22nd Street Baptist and Central Christian beat Nameoki Methodist on forfeits.

Dove Hunting Season Will Begin Sept. 1

Mourning dove season will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 1, and end at sunset, Saturday, Nov. 9, the Illinois Department of Conservation announced today. Hunters are reminded that the state is on daylight time until Oct. 27. The starting hour after then is noon.

Doves must be hunted during the afternoon throughout the season. The daily limit is 12 and the possession limit is 24, except on opening day when hunters may not have more than 12 doves in possession.

Populations and hunting prospects are good, according to game technicians. But as every northern Illinois dove hunter knows, a few cool nights in late August will upset the best laid plans because the bulk of the northern dove population will go south. Frequently, doves will stay in southern Illinois until early winter, and sometimes a few flocks will winter there.

The 'dove' is considered one of the most difficult birds to hit on the wing. It is the most popular game bird in the U.S. and more shotgun shells are fired at it than any other game bird.

In Illinois about one out of five hunting license buyers hunt doves. Sportsmen look for migrating flocks around small farm ponds, in clipped wheat stubble, in silage fields and in harvested crop fields where large amounts of smartweed, foxtail, Indian hemp and other weed seeds are scattered by combines.

diator of the U. S. Conciliation and Mediation Service of St. Louis, relayed messages between the two bodies. O'Keefe closed the contract dispute in a Sunday meeting Aug. 4 at the request of city officials.

Result of the meeting, which ended shortly before 1 a.m. Friday, was an offer by council members of a one-year contract setting up a schedule of monthly increases for police and firemen ranging from $48 as the minimum raise for patrolmen and detectives to $77 for the chief of the police department, and from $48 monthly for regular firemen to $79 for the fire chief.

Based on Rank
Amount of the proposed raises is based on rank and years of service.

An across-the-board increase of $32 per month was offered laborers, teamsters and other city employees, including city hall workers who are not unionized.

The contract offer also calls for time and a half pay for "authorized actual call-out time" and provides eight paid holidays and double time for holidays worked.

A new clause covering sick leave was reported to be one of the major points of opposition in acceptance of the new offer.

Under the new offer, fulltime employees absent from work, because of illness would receive no pay for the first day off.

After three consecutive days off, a written report from physician or dentist would be required before the employee would receive full pay for the three consecutive days off.

All employees, after ten years service and upon retirement, would receive one-third of un-accumulated sick leave, not to exceed a 30-day maximum.

Up To 90 Days
The present sick leave policy pays for all days off sick up to 90 days. Some abuses, leading to frequent absences, have been alleged.

City employees have been seeking a two-year contract and police and firemen had been seeking total salary increases of $120 over a two-year contract period, with $72.50 of it applicable this year and another $47.50 monthly effective next year.

The wage schedule as offered by the city council would cost $26,688 for members of the police department and $27,368 for members of the fire department, aldermen said.

This would take over half of the total of $80,000 set up in the city's 1968-69 operating budget for the current fiscal year. The new contract proposed by the city, if accepted, would be retroactive to May 1 and would terminate on April 30, 1969.

Home Wine Producers Need Prior Approval

Are you a home wine maker? Reap the grape harvest if you want to.

But Internal Revenue Service offers this reminder: heads of families may produce — tax free — up to 200 gallons of wine for use of their immediate families only if they comply with the federal statute requiring prior registration of their intent to produce wine.

The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the IRS is charged with policing this federal law. Registration forms for this purpose, for prospective family-use wine makers in the state of Illinois, may be obtained from the Office of the Chief Inspector, Alcohol & Tobacco Tax, Room 1784, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60601.

Properly completed forms must be submitted in duplicate to the above office at least five days before the production of wine is begun. Further information may be obtained by calling 353-3792.

If qualified, the home wine-maker gets back one copy of the form as authorization to produce no more than 200 gallons of wine during the twelve-month period from July 1 through June 30. A new registration form must be filed for each year the home producer wishes to make wine.

The exemption given under federal law for the production of tax-free wine is solely for family use and does not apply to an unmarried person unless he qualifies as head of a family, or a married man living apart from his family.

Production of wine by corporations or partnerships for commercial purposes is not covered by this exemption.

Each year, a number of persons who have made wine for family use and who did not register their intention are taxed at the regular rate for such wine. In addition, they have been liable for criminal prosecution.

2 to Teach on Primitive Pacific Isle of Kusaie

A Southern Illinois University alumni married couple will face the challenge of a primitive Pacific island when they arrive there this month on federal teaching assignments.

Their destination, Kusaie of the Caroline Islands group, is so unaffected by civilization that they are taking enough food, household items, and medicines to last them two years.

Phillip Foster, 27, and his 26-year-old wife, Mari-dell, are scheduled to be dropped by seaplane Aug. 26 at Kusaie, where Foster will be supervisor of English language teachers in the four elementary schools and one high school and his wife will be a high school mathematics and physics teacher.

At the time of their two-year assignment in April by the U.S. Department of Interior, they chose to go to Kusaie despite its lack of food, no electricity, and the resulting absence of modern conveniences and services. There is no doctor.

Generate Own Electricity
They are taking 200 pounds of air freight. Another 3000 pounds of supplies will come along later by ship. In spite of the absence of electricity, they are taking an electric refrigerator, because among their things will be an electric generator. To be on the safe side, however, oil lamps and lanterns are included in their personal cargo.

The Fosters, whose home town is Harrisburg, Ill., said Kusaie has a population of 3000 natives, of whom 1200 are enrolled in the school system.

Using suggestions of local grocery specialists, they bought up enough food, soap and other necessities to last them two years. They have obtained drugs with the help of a pharmacist, and have been taught by a physician how to administer shots. They are taking seed to grow their own vegetables.

Fruit is plentiful. When they arrive on the island, they hope to be able to buy motorbikes for their personal use. Foster said he would have a Jeep assigned to him for travel among the five schools.

Foster, who has his master's degree in teaching English as a foreign language, and Mari-dell, who has her bachelor's degree—both from SIU—were married in 1961 in South Vietnam where her father, Fred Armistead, was a member of an SIU education team from 1961 to 1967 and her mother taught in an elementary school at Saigon. The young married couple remained in Saigon to teach in a high school there from 1968-69. Mari-dell was reared in Harrisburg. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Verba Foster of the nearby village of Muddy.

Foster said they were offered their choice of teaching on Guam or Kusaie. The Guam site would have been modern, but they felt a primitive island would be more challenging.

Muffler Charge Filed
Robert R. Russell, Bend road, was charged with driving with an improper muffler at 2114 Delmar avenue at 6:35 p.m. Thursday.

Christine Bialczak Is Bride of Howard Green

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday morning at 10 o'clock of Miss Christine Marie Bialczak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley T. Bialczak, 1021 Greenwood street, Madison, and Howard W. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Green, who reside at 2009 Rhodes street, Madison.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Sylvester Mick.

Mrs. Eleanor Tutka, soloist, sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day," with Mrs. George McGarrahan, organist, providing the accompaniment.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a pure white silk organza gown fashioned with a scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves. Motifs of re-embroidered Alencon lace etched with pearls and iridescent sequins accented the Empire bodice and extended into the long A-line skirt.

A detachable train fell from the back waistline into a full sweep with lace motifs.

A soft French organza bow with pearls and lace held her tiered veil of illusion.

Carnations, stephanotis and orchids made up the bridal bouquet, tied with the satin streamers.

Mrs. Pete Palazzola, a sister of the bride, as matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Debbie Trots, a cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Beth Sabol and Mrs. James Harper, wore yellow chiffon gowns over linen with scoop necklines and short sleeves. The chiffon fell over the linen in a cage, featuring small buttons down the back of each dress. Matching headpieces with tiny veils were worn. Arrangements of daisies were carried.

Sandra Green, a niece of the groom, was flower girl and Thomas Palazzola, a nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. A basket with red rose petals was carried by the flower girl.

Ernest Green, brother of the groom, was best man, serving with groomsmen Vincent Colomski, a cousin of the bride, Larry Gavilsky, another cousin of the bride, and Michael Palazzola, nephew of the bride.

Peta Palazzola, brother-in-law of the bride, and Daniel Trots, cousin of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Bialczak, the bride's mother, wore a powder blue three-piece suit with blue accessories.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Green chose a two-piece aqua dress with matching accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Madison high school.

A breakfast was held during the morning hours after the wedding ceremony, and a reception took place in the evening at the Polish Hall in Madison.

The young couple will reside in Kansas upon returning from a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks.

16 Inductions On Friday; 25 Exams Set for Sept. 5

A group of 18 area men will report for induction and 107 pre-induction physical examinations Thursday, Sept. 5, at the Selective Service System office, Post Office-Federal Building, Edwardsville, it was announced today.

None of those to be inducted on that date are from the Quad-City area. However, 25 of the 107-man group slated to take pre-induction medical exams are local 19-year-old youths. Those scheduled for induction will have reached their 20th birthday, draft officials said.

The September draft quota includes six Alton men and 12 from the Edwardsville area. Pre-draft physicals also will be taken by 54 men from Alton and 28 Edwardsville men in addition to the 25 Quad-Cityans. Sixteen local youths are to be inducted on Friday, Aug. 16, with none slated to report for physical examinations.

A temporary suspension of pre-induction physical examinations was announced July 3 at an economic measure. However, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey later notified draft officials that medical exams of prospective inductees will be resumed immediately.

Among those affected by the resumption of physicals are graduated college students, who are being reclassified as eligible for the armed forces.

Sawed-Off Shotgun, Shells Found in Car

Venice police were investigating Friday the ownership of a 1960 auto in which a sawed-off shotgun, four shotgun shells and a nightstick were found while the car was parked at Sharkey's Truck Stop, Market street and Broadway.

Police were called at 8:30 p.m. Thursday by a man who had seen the gun in the car. Officers said they inspected the car and saw the shotgun in the front seat and four shotgun shells lying on the dashboard.

The car was towed to a garage and police confiscated the gun, nightstick and shells. The car was impounded. Police said the license was issued to Raymond Fischer of Montgomery City, Mo.

The weapon was a single-shot, 12-gauge shotgun cut down to an 18½-inch barrel.

Collide in Madison

Two cars were damaged in a collision at Edwardsville road and McCambridge avenue in Madison at 6:15 p.m. Thursday. An auto driven by Stella M. Oakley, Steelville, Ill., was making a left turn from McCambridge into Edwardsville road. The other car was driven by Edith M. Snyder of Edwardsville.

Kirkpatrick Improvement Group Rounds Out Active Year

By MARION BARTOSIAK
The Kirkpatrick Homes Improvement Association is entering its third year with plans for improved and increased activities.

Organized and then abandoned by the Economic Opportunity Commission, the association endeavored to assist persons in beautifying the housing project and to assist youths. It now is advised by the Illinois Youth Commission with Don Hornberger as the local representative.

KHIA serves children through many programs. It is associated with the Early Birds (ages six to nine), and sponsors a Junior

Production Problem Insurance Offered

Several courses, providing a comprehensive study of production problem solving, will be offered by the Metropolitan College of St. Louis University during the fall semester.

All of these non-credit courses are part of the university's systems analysis program. "Systems Analysis and Data Processing I, II, and III" stress the capabilities and uses of electronic data processing equipment, peripheral devices and record equipment. Offered as a continuing program over three semesters, the courses are designed for office managers, production and inventory control managers, contract administrators, accountants and librarians. Tuition for each course is $64.

The beginning course, offered in two sections, is designed for those with little or no previous knowledge of the subject. It will meet Mondays from 7 to 9:15 p.m.

Instructor will be Donald Fogarty, assistant professor of industrial engineering at the university. The other section will be offered on Wednesdays with Joseph McKenna, chairman of the industrial engineering department, teaching.

The second semester course is designed for those who have completed the basic course or have previous knowledge of the subject. Course director will be Thomas O'Connell, section supervisor, advanced systems planning, McDonnell-Douglas Corp. Classes are scheduled for Wednesdays, from 7 to 9:15 p.m.

An advanced third semester course will meet Wednesdays, from 7 to 9:15 p.m. The instructor will be Leon Sanford, manager of systems analysis, Frozen Food Division, Pet, Inc. An introductory course in the COBOL programming language will be offered on Tuesdays from 7 to 9:15 p.m. The course will provide a background in the vocabulary, methods and capabilities of the language. Eugene Devine, manager of programming, Emerson Electric Co., will teach the course. Tuition is $64.

"Recent Developments in Decision-Making Techniques I" will be offered Tuesdays from 7 to 9:15 p.m. Topics to be covered include statistics, queuing theory, simulation, network and scheduling. Donald Aucamp, assistant professor of industrial engineering at the University, will direct the course. Tuition is $64.

Additional information about courses may be obtained by writing or calling Metropolitan College, St. Louis University, JE 5-3300, station 363.

Teen Club (10 to 15) and Senior Teen Club (15 to 19).

Its aim is to build a wholesome development of youths living in Kirkpatrick Homes. Through the leadership of the community action group, ways can be found to involve children in safe and constructive activities, it is believed by Hornberger and Mrs. Betty Liddell, president of the group.

Appeal to Adults

In an effort to appeal to adults to support KHIA, its executive board has developed family activities in cooperation with counseling and education programs already serving the community.

KHIA is cooperating with the IYC, the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Coordinated Youth Services, in programs of this nature, Mrs. Liddell said.

Dedicated to the physical, social and economic development of residents of the housing project, KHIA is "non-political, non-sectarian, non-partisan and cooperative in a grassroots enterprise."

During the past year, plans were made for a West Granite Youth Development dinner to be held later. The group conducted a Christmas party for children, held a bake sale and started the Pre-Teens Club with social gatherings and dances.

It sponsored KATAC, the teenage club, named a hot dog stand at the Junior Chamber of Commerce homecoming, and conducted counseling services for families with the assistance of Dr. Raymond Troyer of Southern Illinois University-Southern campus and C. A. McMillan or Coordinated Youth Services.

May was "speakers' month," and a talk was featured each week.

Plans for the coming year include an ice cream social this month, a membership campaign in September, a mental health day care center in October, a fund-raising bazaar in November.

Incinerator Plan To Be on Agenda Of County Board

A new resolution for development of a refuse disposal system to be conducted by Madison county is to be introduced to the Madison county board of supervisors at its meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

At a meeting last week, the sanitation committee endorsed construction of an incinerator to serve the western parts of the county and a landfill to serve the eastern sections.

A resolution submitted at the July meeting, which was tabled, left open the method of trash disposal and was considered vague by most members. It will be the final attempt for the sanitation committee, headed by Carl Buehler, Granite City assistant supervisor, to place the proposal on the November ballot. August is the deadline set by the state for November referendums.

10-Cent Tax
A maximum of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation will be adequate for the county to issue general obligation bonds for construction and operation of the facilities.

Horner & Shiffin, St. Louis consulting engineers, recommended either an incinerator with a 900-ton per day capacity or a landfill system composed of three dumps.

If the county board approves, the following proposal will appear on the November ballot:

"Shall the Madison county board of supervisors establish a county waste disposal operation consisting of at least one centralized incinerator located in the western part of Madison county and one sanitary landfill located in the eastern part of Madison county and charge a fee to the users of the facilities based upon weight and levy a tax for the establishment and operation of such facilities not to exceed 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation?"

$7.8 Million Cost
The development would cost an estimated $7.8 million with a resulting tax rate of 6.6 cents. The consulting engineers also had recommended that the county delay its program pending completion of a disposal study to include St. Clair and Madison counties.

But the sanitation committee, noting that available landfill space is running out, advised immediate action, since current landfills will last only two to three years, about the same amount of time would be required to complete a new disposal system.

Meanwhile, the Madison county council is considering a petition to the county board to rezone a large tract of swamp bottomland the city owns at the old Chain of Rocks Bridge for landfill purposes.

Board Agenda
The board agenda includes addition of $65,000 to the $180,000 appropriation to the retirement fund, as funds are available; permission to award a contract to paint the county nursing home.

Requests to advertise for bids for a mimeograph machine for the county clerk's office and for school director's and semi-annual reports of the sheriff and county clerk.

$10,000 Accident Suit In Auto-Truck Crash

A suit for $10,000 was filed last week in Madison county circuit court for Larry Abney, a minor, by his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Abney, against Chariton J. Turner, as a result of injuries sustained in a traffic accident Aug. 11, 1967, on Chain of Rocks road at Highway Three. Abney was a passenger in the Turner auto.

The suit alleges that Turner ran a stop sign and his auto collided with a truck.

$125,000 Suit Filed Against Local Speedway

A suit for a total of $125,000 was filed in Madison county circuit court last week for Wanda and Donald Atwood against the Tri-City Speedway.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Atwood was severely injured when a fight developed in the grandstand and she was shoved and pushed on Sept. 1, 1967. She seeks $100,000. Her husband is asking $25,000 for medical bills and for the loss of his wife's services and consortium.

Mertz Helping Form Private Postal System

Clyde Mertz, 3123 Harvard place, operator of a drive-in laundry at 2247 Madison avenue, is one of five investors in Independent Postal System of America for bulk mail delivery rights for the St. Louis metropolitan area. The plan involves placing delivery points in plastic containers near home entrances, rather than in mail boxes.

The private postal system for delivery of third- and fourth-class mail proposes to serve St. Louis, St. Louis county, St. Charles and Jefferson counties in Missouri and St. Clair, Madison, Monroe and Jersey counties in Illinois, delivering commercial bulk mail. Other participants in the $100,000 franchise are James M. Cupp, East Alton, head of the group, and Burnell Holliday, Wallace McPherson and Arthur M. Hanfelder. IPSA was founded in Oklahoma City this year and is operating in Oklahoma and Texas.

MR. and MRS. DAVID M. GRAVES. Their wedding was an event of Saturday at Trinity United Methodist Church. Mrs. Graves is the former Pamela Sue Dawdy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dawdy sr., 3008 Edgewood drive.

Graves-Dawdy Wedding At Trinity Methodist

Trinity United Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Pamela Sue Dawdy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dawdy sr., 3008 Edgewood drive, and David McDowell Graves, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Loren Graves of Ferguson, Mo.

Rev. Clair Clark heard the vows of the couple at 7:30 and a reception was held directly afterward in the church fellowship hall.

Altar bouquets of white gladioli, pink mums, greenery and stephanotis adorned the sanctuary.

Candles in candelabra entwined with greenery and pink flowers were lighted by Sheila Jones, a cousin of the bride and Carolyn Krueger. Large white bows marked the family pews.

Miss Joyce Toppins, organist, played the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Miss Joyce Spotswood, as she sang the Lord's Prayer and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride wore a gown of white organza fashioned with a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. Chantilly lace motifs etched with pearls and iridescent sequins trimmed the neckline and sleeves and were repeated in the long cage made on princess lines.

A detachable train with rows of lace appliques fell from the shoulders into a full sweep.

A Swedish jeweled crown of pearls held secure the bride's veil of illusion and the carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis, greenery and a detachable corsage of pink roses and white carnations.

The bride was escorted by her father.

Miss Debbie Dawdy, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Jayne Graves, the bridegroom's sister, served as bridesmaid.

Their dresses, made alike, were of pink linen designed with high rounded necklines and short sleeves. Watteau trains fell to the hem lines of the long skirts.

Headpieces in matching pink with brief veils and bows were worn. Their bouquets of pink carnations with deep pink streamers were centered with corsages of white carnations studded with pink roses.

Richard Dawdy III, a nephew of the bride, carried the rings. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dawdy chose a pink linen cast costume. The bridegroom's mother was in a blue dress. Both wore corsages of white carnations and pink roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Richard Dawdy Jr., best man, and Bill Graves, brothers of the bride and groom, Mike Carpenter and Rik Schmidt.

Mrs. Dawdy Jr. was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Julia Ward and Mrs. Lana Rogier assisted at the reception table.

The couple will be at home after Aug. 10 in Wichita Falls, Tex., where the bridegroom, now stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base, is an aircraft instructor. His bride graduated from Granite City high school and a school of beauty culture.

Among out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Ira McDowell of St. Louis county, Frank Dawdy of Youngstown, Ariz., Mrs. Pat Fyffe and Mrs. Edna Matwan, N. J., and others from this region.

A rehearsal dinner was given the bridegroom's parents.

New Ideas, Not Just Money, Urged As Solution to Urban Education Problems

Urban school problems, ranging from the need for in-service teacher training to money, were presented at a public hearing Friday at Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus. Area school people were invited to present cases to the Urban Problems Commission of the Illinois School Problems Commission. Chairman is Sen. Esther Saperstein of Chicago.

George T. Wilkins, SIU-SW faculty member and a former state superintendent of public instruction, is vice-chairman of the Urban Problems Commission.

Dean of education at SIU-SW, W. Deane Wiley called for new ideas. "Money alone won't solve our problems; but money, with well-thought-out programs, is the answer."

Wiley, addressing the group, called for the commission and all educators to think of the total picture of education. In his presentation, he advocated new educational structures, to meet the needs of the students. Recruitment, Assessment

East St. Louis Assistant Supt. Robert Opperman cited increasing problems in teacher recruitment and retention, decreasing assessed valuation and the need for in-service training.

Money, Opperman said, is the biggest problem of his district. When asked about the drop-out rate, he gave an estimate of 30%.

The question of increased vocational education for the East St. Louis District was raised and, again, his response was the need for more facilities and more staff to add such programs.

The East St. Louis school official was critical of restrictions placed on federal money. "Tight policies do not allow some attendance centers in East St. Louis to qualify for federal funds under Title I and do not allow the use of Title I teaching aid and equipment to be transferred from one building to another, he said."

Granite City Supt. Bob J. Davis spoke of a need for in-service training for teachers. He called on the legislature to allow the district some leeway in the school calendar for time to conduct in-service programs.

This, he said, is not a request for additional money, "because we know how tight the financial picture is. Instead, just give us some flexibility in the calendar."

Supt. Davis called for eight half-day sessions to be used and still be counted as part of the 176 school days now required by law.

Sen. Esther Saperstein, chairman of the commission, invited Dean Wiley to appear before the next public hearing.

In addition, Sen. Saperstein announced that the commission intends to issue a special invitation to representatives of Negro leadership of East St. Louis to appear before the next hearing to discuss their views on educational problems in that city.

Electrical Storm Drenches Area, Knocks Out Power

An electrical storm accompanied by rain of cloudburst proportions in some areas swept through the Quad-City area Thursday afternoon, flooded streets and basements, knocked out electrical power in some sections and caused extensive damage to homes in scattered parts of the area.

Rain fell so heavily in a short time that water filled streets over the curb level, resulting in one accident that illustrated the danger of sewer and street excavations. An auto making a left turn at Ridgeway avenue and East 24th street about 4 p.m., a short time after the rain had ended, slid into a deep hole along curbing unmarked by barricades.

A large crane being driven from the Bromley street sewer excavation lifted the car out of the hole. Traffic was tied up for more than a block in both directions.

The Wisliewski, Holiday Gardens and Shamrock areas were without power for an hour and a half after lightning made a direct hit on a line leading to the areas from the station near Frohardt street. Lightning also knocked out transformers in utility poles in scattered sections of the area.

The storm struck about 2:30 p.m. High gusting winds blew down a large tree in the back yard at 2345 Miracle avenue, and many limbs were blown down.

At the home of John Robertson, 3124 Ash street, lightning hit the roof on three occasions, went through the roof into the kitchen and burned out all appliances and much of the wiring in the house. The lightning left a large hole in the roof.

Rainfall registered .32 of an inch at the Chain of Rocks locks, but a heavier fall occurred in other sections of the area.

Traffic signals at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues and at Johnson and Nameoki roads became faulty at 3:20 p.m. Thursday because of a power failure.

A utility pole at 2904 Saratoga avenue caught fire, apparently due to lightning, at 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

Tree limbs fell on autos at 2600 Iowa street but there was no apparent damage, it was reported at 2:45 p.m.

An auto which was flooded out was abandoned at 2714 Iowa street at 7:35 p.m. A young driver had sped along upper Iowa street through deep water before it became flooded out.

County Lacks Power To Reapportion Self

Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor and chairman of the legislation committee, concurred Friday with an opinion by the Illinois attorney general that county boards lack the power to redistrict the county. The committee has been studying various proposals for reapportionment to be prepared if the legislature authorizes such action in the 1969 session.

The county board was advised earlier by State's Attorney Leon Scroggins that it must reapportion itself eventually to comply with a U.S. Supreme Court decision requiring one-man, one-vote representation in local government. The county board currently favors a weighted vote plan of reapportionment in which 49 members of the board would be retained.

His comments "to the citizens of Granite City" follow. These reports are dedicated to further improve the contact, communications and cooperation between the citizens of Granite City and their municipal government.

This community, like others throughout the nation, has an obligation to its youth. This is an obligation that this administration is more than happy to fulfill.

As chairman of President Johnson's Council on Youth Opportunity, Vice-President Humphrey has worked with local officials, businessmen and community leaders to expanding training, job and recreation opportunities for unemployed youth.

Vice-President Humphrey has spearheaded the drive, which has produced 1,400,000 summer jobs for unemployed youth. Paid By U.S. City, 5 Groups

Granite City has 61 of these youths, paid by the federal government at $1.25 per hour. Our businessmen have donated enough money to hire a supervisor for these youths.

The Council allowed $1,000 for equipment and supplies. Nesco Steel Barrel Co. donated the barrels you see around town lettered "Keep Our City Clean" and "Neighborhood Youth Corps."

Cosponsors of our program are the Downtown Granite City Shopping Center Association, Coordinated Youth Service, Associated Retailers and Civic Association, Chamber of Commerce and Madison-St. Clair Counties E.O.C. Neighborhood Youth Corps. I am most grateful to these organizations and people.

If you have been in city hall this summer, have you noticed some very young people training in the various city offices? Streets Kept Clean

As you ride through the shopping areas of Granite City, have you noticed the young people helping clean up our city streets? Who are they? Where did they come from? Why are they here?

These young ladies and gentlemen, that I am so proud of, are part of the Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) program. They are America's youth for

Council Could

Levee and Sanitary District, the would be from 80 to 85

Plans call for paving of the open ditch, with fencing on both sides.

First to object to the trade proposal in the June 7 council session were Aldermen Samuel Whittier, Walter Nann and Richard Fry. Whittier said during the meeting that "We've got to provide the ditch right-of-way or the project will die, and we can't let that happen."

But he objected to the property exchange.

Alderman Paul Rutledge, however, touched on the subject in a different way. He told the council that "It looks to me like the only thing we can do is close August Street and inconvenience a few people to the extent of four minutes a day."

Two-Minute Difference

Rutledge said he had toured the area with his car over the weekend and, while traveling at the same speed, noted only a two-minute difference in time by going the way of the project and the way of the property exchange.

Alderman Claude Green urged the council to take action, remarking that only a few people use the street as a shortcut to get to St. Mary's Tavern on Lincoln avenue.

"This looks like a good thing to me," Green said. "We get nine acres for three acres, we'd be able to go ahead with the stormwater sewer project without added delay and expense."

Alderman Steve Barsiak, a close political ally of Alderman Nann, said he thought the council should "be taken to court and show them who is running the city."

Motion Loses

Discussion on the proposal at that time was concluded with a motion for hiring an appraiser to determine the value of the land involved in the argument. An 8-5 vote was cast in favor, but since nine votes were needed Mayor Partney was called upon to tie the vote. "No," pointing out that the council could not afford the motion lost.

Before the end of the council meeting, the aldermen agreed to renegotiate the issue with the city of St. Louis. First move toward condemnation proceedings as a possible means of solving the problem was made during the council meeting July 1 in which Barsiak said that if the council was to condemn the land with the property exchange, the city should prepare to file condemnation proceedings and hire an appraiser to determine the cost of the land.

Asked where the money would come from, Barsiak said that if the council was willing to go along with the property exchange, the city would be required to file condemnation proceedings and hire an appraiser to determine the cost of the land.

Asked where the money would come from, Barsiak said he did not know. He pointed out that the city would be required to file condemnation proceedings and hire an appraiser to determine the cost of the land.

Who Is Responsible?

The question of responsibility over failure to make arrangements for the right-of-way along East 23rd street and N. Third street arose during the meeting when Alderman Fry asked:

"Why hasn't this need for right-of-way been brought out earlier? Surely someone knew. I've seen four sets of plans for the project prepared by H. W. Lochner & Co. and every one showed a cut across August street which indicated there must have been some intention to abandon the street. This would have required some consideration by the council."

In mid-July, the contractor, St. Wilson & Sons, notified the city council that a million dollars' worth of sewers (part of the new stormwater drainage system) would be useless unless the city took steps to provide the ditch right-of-way along East 23rd street.

The Wilson firm pointed out in a letter to council members that the delay encountered in obtaining the easement could be costly to the contractor, "who will pass the added cost to the city."

No estimate of the added cost was made in the letter or since it has been made either by the contracting firm or by city officials.

Request Contract Extension

The letter primarily requested an extension of the construction deadline for the sewer projects on grounds that the problem of delay was of the city's own making.

The contracting firm said in its letter:

"In accordance with the specifications for referenced contract we hereby submit our request for an extension of 10 days from June 10th and until (10) days after the completion problem currently existing has been resolved.

"We believe it appropriate for this company to detail the effects of the delay as it currently exists on the execution and completion of our contracts."

"The schedule of work furnished to the city council and to the Engineers for the council will be valid in all respects."

"The concrete lining of the open top portion of the 'A' contract will have to be delayed until the spring and summer of 1969."

"The portions of the storm sewer system which drain into the open top portion of the system will be completed and will fill up with water and possibly create a health hazard in that area of construction, and additional there will be no relief from the periodic flooding in that area. About a million dollars worth of paid for work will be unusable for an indefinite period of time."

"The remainder of the system which flows into the Victory Drive 'B' pipe will be operable and the portions of the city which it serves will receive the full intended benefit on or before the dates indicated in the proposed schedule."

"An additional effect will be the drastically changed contract conditions which will certainly increase the cost to our company and therefore also to the city."

"The condition of schedule time imposed on our firm by the contract time is likewise a condition that the owner has imposed on itself and the responsibility for added cost as a result of the owners actions which cause delays to the contractor will therefore accrue to the owners account."

"The city's authority to stop work on this contract is limited to contract termination and that only for contract violation and then the only recourse is to bonding company for completion of the work."

Bartosiak said in that meeting he hoped to have a recommendation for the next session. In the council meeting held last Monday, Bartosiak recommended a plan to file "immediate" condemnation proceedings against the land of St. Steel Co. to acquire the needed right of way.

He conceded the cost would be about $100,000, although Mayor Partney said later that there is no way of knowing what value the land might be determined by the city.

Industrial land is valuable and in some instances has run as high as $100,000 an acre in industrial constructions, he said; the city, he noted, could condemn the land for $100,000 if it went into a condemnation suit.

Rejected Condemnation

While the council rejected the vote to file a condemnation action by a 5-7 vote, Mayor Partney appeared to the trade proposal appeared to be weakening in some quarters.

Mrs. Bollerger and two children, Susan, one and Kim Bollerger, five, were taken to the Children's Fair Hospital, East St. Louis.

Three Persons Injured

Three persons were injured when an auto driven by Terrence D. Woodward, 945 N. Third street, struck the right side of a car driven by Robert C. Roberts at 29th and 72nd streets, at 8:10 p.m. Thursday at 26th street. The car driven by Woodward was charged with a stop sign violation.

Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, the car driven by Woodward was charged with a stop sign violation.

New Plant Planned

Monday night's discussion of the issue injected new life in the controversy when Alderman Clyde Boyd, a member of the special committee, disclosed that in talks with Granite City Steel Co. the alderman had been told the steel firm planned construction of a new cold strip mill in the area, and that continued use of August street would present no problem.

The plant, Boyd said, would employ about 600 persons.

"I don't see how we can pass up such a deal as this," Boyd commented. "We get nine acres for three acres and we mean so much to the economy of the area."

Bartosiak's motion to file a condemnation proceeding was based, Bartosiak said, on the critical problem raised for the contractor and the city in continuing work on the sewer construction.

He said the city must either condemn the area or to work out a property exchange immediately to avoid a shutdown of construction work.

MONTHLY PAY FIGURE

"DELIBERATE DISTORTION"

To the Editor:

This is in reference to an article in the Record for July 22 which purports to tell the story regarding a wage offer by the Madison Board of Education to the teachers of the Madison public schools.

We are irritated—in fact repelled—by the Record report of "monthly" increases offered the teachers.

Your handling of this story obviously violates the code of ethics of responsible journalists in that it includes information which is intended to appear as factual when one can reasonably assume you know that information not to be factual.

For example:

1. You know that teachers are hired to teach on an annual basis and for a year's salary, which is paid to them usually in equal amounts on a monthly or semi-monthly basis spread over twelve months.

Full-time teachers in the public schools are never to our knowledge—or yours—hired on a monthly basis. We have to assume that your newspaper report was a gross and deliberate distortion on this account.

2. Also we know you are aware that it is a common practice for employers—such as the Press-Record, we assume—to provide annual vacations. The length of vacations differs somewhat according to tradition or practice in a particular field of endeavor.

In education, we are positive you know that the traditional summer recess, or vacation, is from two and one-half to three months.

But we believe your newspaper account noted above deliberately distorts the story of the Madison teacher-board of education negotiations by pretending that any raise offered by the board does not take into account any pay to the teachers during their summer recess, or vacation.

We hope that your reporting of this story was inaccurate by mistake and not intentional. It would certainly reflect on your minds to have you check this story and print a correction.

This would help somewhat to undo the harm that the newspaper account has done by misinforming the citizens of Madison.

If you cannot do this, we will have to find some method of correcting this story for the benefit of everyone who has a good-faith concern for school children and education in Madison.

Staff for Tax Return Complaints Separate from Regular Examiners

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q—I was just divorced from my husband and am going back to work under my maiden name. Will I have to get a new Social Security number for tax purposes?

A—No, continue to use your present number and notify the Social Security Administration of the change in your name. This will facilitate crediting payments to your account.

A number of refunds were delayed in processing this year because taxpayers did not let Social Security know their name changed. Whether the change stems from marriage, divorce, adoption or other reason, taxpayers should make sure the change is noted in their Social Security account.

Q—The exemption I claimed for my uncle is being disallowed. Can I talk to anyone else about this besides the agent who examined my return?

A—Notify the examining agent that you do not agree with his disallowance of the exemption; you claimed, and request that a district conference be arranged. At this conference, your side of the story as well as the agent's will be reviewed on the basis of the facts and law involved.

If the tax in question in any one year is $2500 or less, no formal or written protest is needed to obtain such a conference.

The people who handle these conferences are specially trained and are not attempters of the units responsible for examining returns. This helps assure an impartial review.

Q—I took some swimming lessons so that I could pass the Red Cross lifesaving test. Can I deduct this cost from my income I make as a lifeguard?

A—If you had to pass the lifesaving test to qualify for your job as a lifeguard, then the cost of the swimming lessons will not be deductible.

Give Public Whatever It Wants?

(Milford N. H., Cabinet)

We have a friend who was asked in the course of a job interview to tell you what the daily paper he turned to first. With complete candor, he replied: "Steve Canyon."

Don Robinson, columnist for the American Press magazine, reminded us of that incident recently when he wrote that if newspapers followed the example of TV and determined their programming by surveys, newspapers would be made up largely of comic strips.

Invariably, readership surveys have shown the comics to be the most "read" of anything in the paper.

Fortunately, Robinson concludes, newspaper editors do not let such surveys dictate editorial content.

In this way they are acting more responsibly than television executives who have been known to eliminate some of their best programs to make way for those that sell on the basis of a survey.

Basis On Which Equity of Property Taxes Is Measured

(Second of four articles by Dr. Leo Cohen on the STU-SW Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs Program on "Property tax equity and tax reform in Illinois—a Madison county case study.")

In examining the nature of property tax equity, certain attributes of this tax should be noted. The tax is levied on the value of property and not on individuals. It has no necessary relationship to one's ability to pay or the quantity and quality of services provided.

The Illinois Constitution is specific in requiring uniformity within and between all classes of property. Since 1927, the Illinois statutes have required assessment of all property at its "full, fair, cash value."

The Butler Act of 1945, which established the existing state equalization program, was an attempt to equalize at full value.

Thus, there is a mandate to the assessor and others involved in the state-local administration of the property tax to establish and maintain full value assessment.

Full value assessment is a sufficient but not a necessary condition to insure equity, greater uniformity in the level of assessment should be the minimum goal.

This is essential in the primary objective of distributing the tax burden equitably within a taxing jurisdiction.

Therefore, as required by the all-inclusive uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution, each parcel of property should be assessed by a given assessor (and preferably all assessors, at least within the county) at the same proportion of the true value of the property.

There is further need to provide uniformity between state-assessed property, such as railroads, and locally-assessed property.

State grants-in-aid formulae to elementary and secondary schools, tax rate limits, and bond indebtedness of local units are all affected significantly by the existence of wide variations in the level of assessment.

Tax administration involves assessment, applying given tax rates to the equalized assessed valuations, and the collection of taxes.

Assessment includes the assessor's role of discovering, listing and placing values on properties in accordance with the law, and the additional function of appeals and review.

The assessor's role is important, since he is the primary force in allocating or distributing the tax burden among the taxpayers in the various taxing jurisdictions.

Equitable assessment within a taxing unit is achieved when each parcel of property is assessed at the same ratio to true or market value as all others.

Measurement of Equity
There are various methods of measuring the inequity or lack of uniformity in assessment. The most widely accepted method is the assessment-sales ratio study, and there is increasing use of the appraisal technique.

In both cases, the problem is to compute the ratio of assessed valuation to the true value of the property.

The appraisal method requires a highly-qualified agency to make a limited number of appraisals of different classes of property, especially those types which turn over rather infrequently.

Sales ratio studies are a means of estimating true value by empirical measurement of the transfers of real property in the market. These should include only non-sale transfers or "arms length transfers" of property, as reflected by the actual price paid in the open market between willing buyers and willing sellers.

The difficult step in the computation of the assessment level, assessment-sales ratio, is obtaining the true value of each parcel of real property in the assessment district.

The selling price of transfers or sales may be used statistically with the ratio associated assessments to estimate the assessment-sales ratio or average level of assessment. From these ratios, the uniformity or equity of assessment may be measured through a coefficient of intra-area dispersion.

Index of Inequality
The coefficient or Index of Inequality is a statistical technique for measuring the variation of the assessment-sales ratios around the median or middle ratio.

It indicates, assuming a normal distribution, the range within which roughly half of all ratios will occur.

A coefficient above 20% signifies an unreasonable state of inequity and is intolerable. It also suggests that the average homeowner may be bearing his legal share of the tax burden by 20% more or less.

There are limitations as to the use of sales ratio data in estimating the levels of assessment.

The determination of selling price from the revenue stamps affixed to the warranty deed may not be accurate. For example, there is the possibility that other consideration is involved in the transfer and not reflected in the stamps. It is also possible that non-valued transfers enter the sample.

Most states have acted recently to replace the Federal Stamp Act on Deeds which expired as of Jan. 1, 1968.

The 1967 Illinois Real Estate Transfer Tax Act imposes a stamp tax of 50 cents for each $500 or fraction thereof. It requires a declaration as to "full actual consideration," and pertinent assessment information filed out by the assessor and forwarded to the State Department of Revenue.

This procedure is a progressive step forward, especially as it provides an excellent source of data for original assessment, review and local intra-county and state inter-county equalization.

Sales Ratio Data, Analysis
Since 1963 was the most recent year for which adequate data were available, it was selected as the period for which real property transfers were examined. The data in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds indicated approximately 800 sales in Madison county during the calendar year 1963.

It was determined that a random sample of 10% of useable transfers would achieve a minimally satisfactory degree of precision for the estimate of the assessment-sales ratio.

The assessment unit or district is the township, and this was used as the basis of comparison. From the Recorder of Deeds' transfer lists, every tenth transaction was selected. The data obtained included the date of filing the deed, grantor, grantee, description of the property and the selling price.

This latter price was determined from the "Schedule—U. S. Revenue Stamp." Since the Federal law through 1967 required revenue stamps in the amount of $1.10 per $1000 of value of real estate purchases, the sales price was interpolated from the value of the stamps and the "Schedule."

Although many difficulties and technical questions arose, an attempt was made to eliminate any exchanges which were not non-sale or "arms length transfers." For example, sales between relatives, quit claim deeds, and other unusual or suspicious transactions were not included.

If any exchange was not deemed valid for inclusion in a sales ratio study, the next transfer on the county list was used as an alternate. The sample was continued by returning to the original existing, i. e., every tenth transfer.

To compute the assessment-sales ratio, it was necessary to obtain the 1965 assessed valuation related to the sales price of each non-sale transfer of real property.

Township books in the County Treasurer's office were utilized to secure such information. Whenever the assessment indicated a greater value than the sales price, prior years were checked to insure that improvements had not been made between time of sales and reassessment.

Those transactions which reflected sales prices much greater relatively than the assessment were compared with the following year's assessment to verify if the sale included improvements not yet assessed at the time of the transfer.

Only those exchanges of property which had assessments for the specific properties transferred were included in the sample.

A specific purpose of this study was to obtain assessment-sales ratios by land use classification. Each township assessor was given those transfers from the sample which had occurred in his jurisdiction and was requested to indicate the specific use of the property.

Police made 153 traffic arrests, down 33; other arrests, up 17; and filed 29 additional charges, down two, for total charges of 298, down 18.

56 far this year, there have been 146 traffic arrests, down 46; 281 other arrests, down 20; and 169 additional charges, down 38, for total charges of 1968, down 104.
